

Action Plan

Talk About Language With Your Family

- What are the languages that your family has?
- What are the linguistic goals that you have for your child?
- What value do the languages have for your family?
- How can the languages impact your child's future?

Pick a Family Language Plan

- Determine a language plan strategy that works best for your family and put it into action. Be sure to include everyone who is affected into the decision-making process and execution of the plan
- The presented Family Language Plan Strategies are not your only options. If you would like assistance in determining a plan that best suits your family, please contact heatherv@isb.ac.th

Consistency & Perseverance

- Remaining firm and consistent in the choices and decisions made is the key to success
- Questioning, wondering, and feeling concerned is normal. This is not an overnight success. Yourself, others, or your child may try to talk you out of the language decisions made. Remember that research is on your side, and plenty of time & patience will be required. Remain positive and firm in your decision. It will pay off!
